"NANTAHALA" IS SHIPYARD'S BIRTHDAY GIFT TO UNCLE SAM

Second Launching at Schaw-Batcher Yard Viewed by Thousands; Chas. M. Schwab and Other Notables Present

Promptly at 7 o'clock Thursday night, as the Schaw-Batcher band blared out patriotic airs and sirens shrieked in unison, the 8800-ton steamer "Nantahala" quivered a moment, tipped slightly, then with increasing momentum slid from her ways and threw up a mass of foam-flecked spray as she plunged into the waters of Liberty channel at the Schaw-Batcher shipyard.

Because of the Nation-wide interest in the hundred ships that were being launched by the shipyards of America, added patriotism was added to the birthday gift to Uncle Sam by the Schaw-Batcher yard.

Miss Mary Mock, niece of Charles M. Schwab, was sponsor for the "Nantahala," and smashed a beribboned bottle of wine against the ship's bow as it left the ways.

Ralph Smith, chief hull draftsman, was the favored bearer of the immense bouquet presented to Miss Mock, in addition to the diamond bar pin which the company provided as a sponsor gift.

Flags fluttering from immense streamers stretching the entire length of the yard and the national colors festooned about the office building of the company added to the patriotic holiday spirit of the thousands who surged through the gates to be present at the launching. Nearly 500 gaily decorated automobiles came from all directions and packed all available places provided for the parking of machines.

Congratulatory telegrams were received from all parts of the country, the first to arrive coming from H. O. Shuster, who is at present in New York City on business connected with the local shipbuilding plant.

Many Notables Here.

A large gathering of men prominent in the shipbuilding world, some accompanied by their wives, witnessed the ceremony. Among those on the launching platform were noticed Mr. Charles M. Schwab, director-general of the United States Shipping Board, and Mrs. Schwab; Charles Piez, general manager of the Shipping Board; John McGregor and J. J. Tynan of the Union Iron Works; J. A. Talbot, president of the Western Pipe and Steel Company, and Mrs. Talbot; John Hendy, manager of the Joshua Hendy Company, and Fred Behneman, its general manager, accompanied by his wife; W. J. Martin, Charles W. Pike of the Lackawanna Steel Company, and Mrs. Pike; Mr. Simpson of the Castle Steel Company and Mrs. Simpson; Mrs. E. G. Ekstrom, wife of E. G. Ekstrom, general manager of the shipyard, who with their little daughter, Gladys, were present to witness this second triumph of Mr. Ekstrom and added a particular interest to the ceremony of the launching.

A. L. Becker, general superintendent, with other officials of the organization, directed the work.

Plans are already being made for the launching of the third ship by the company, which now has 4447 men on its payroll.

STEEL WORKERS' CLUB TO OPEN JULY 13

BIG SOCIAL ORGANIZATION EXTENDS INVITATION TO PUBLIC TO VISIT NEW QUARTERS ON THAT DATE.

Under the direction of a capable organization the Steel Workers' Club rooms in the old Metropolitan Hall are rapidly nearing completion, and will be thrown open for public inspection on Saturday evening, July 13.

The club is an organization having for its purpose the bringing together in closer social touch the men engaged in the allied steel industries of the city and the creation of general social harmony among the men of South San Francisco, for membership in the club will not be confined to steel workers or any particular trade, but will be open to all reputable citizens. An initiation fee of $5 will be charged, with the nominal monthly dues of $1.

No pains, care or expense have been spared to make the club quarters attractive. Since the initial launching of the plan for such a club, enthusiasm has been the watchword of the directors, and the clubrooms, when completed, are expected to be a revelation.

It is one of the very few similar organizations in existence in the United States, is ably supported financially, its management is in capable hands and it will prove a splendid acquisition to the social and business life of the city.

J. B. Tatum is president of the club and J. G. Walker secretary.

PRESIDENT WILSON'S MESSAGE READ HERE

JUDGE E. E. CUNNINGHAM CARRIES WORD OF PRESIDENT WILSON TO AUDIENCE AT ROYAL THEATRE.

Based on the Independence Day message of President Wilson, the following speech was delivered by Judge E. E. Cunningham at the Royal Theatre on the Fourth of July:

Friends and Neighbors; Fellow Americans:

I have a special message for you this evening from our great President, Woodrow Wilson.

It concerns this day in all of its fullness; and is a fitting and noble conclusion to exercises in honor of its 142d anniversary.

Through all these years the American people have been, for the most part, so self-contained as to have vainly imagined that this wonderful day was a sort of national property, and that it belonged body and soul to America.

Well, it is true that in a certain narrow sense it is ours; that its body belongs to us; but it is impossible that its spirit—its soul—should be "scrubbed, cabined and confined" within the restricted limits of any land or country.

Its soul! Well here it is: "All men are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness; that to secure these rights Governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed."

This grand truth comes down to us from above, and is the soul of this wonderful day.

It declares the divine right of all peoples to govern themselves, and, therefore, it belongs to all men everywhere.

This, in brief, is the lesson of President Wilson's Fourth of July four-minute message to the American people which I am here to deliver to you.

Four-Minute Message From President Wilson.

My Fellow Citizens:

Today we commemorate the signing of that Declaration of Independence which marked the awakening of a new spirit in the lives of nations. Since the birth of our republic we have seen this spirit grow. We have heard the demand and watched the struggle for self-government spread and triumph among many peoples. We have come to regard the right to political liberty as the common right of humankind. Year after year, within the security of our borders, we have continued to rejoice in the peaceful increase of freedom and democracy throughout the world. And yet now, suddenly we are confronted with a menace which endangers everything that we have won and everything that the world has won.

In all its old insolence, with all its ancient cruelty and injustice, military autocracy has again armed itself against the pacific hopes of men. Having suppressed self-government among its own people by an organization maintained in part by falsehood and treachery, it has set out to impose its will upon its neighbors and upon us. One by one it has compelled every civilized nation in the world either to forego its aspirations or to declare war in their defense. We find ourselves fighting again for our national existence. We are face to face with the necessity of asserting anew the fundamental right of free men to make their own laws and choose their own allegiance, or else permit humanity to become the victim of a ruthless ambition that is determined to destroy what it cannot master.

FIRST SOUTH S. F. BOY GIVES LIFE FOR LIBERTY

EUGENIA FRANCESCHETTE SLAIN IN ACTION ON WESTERN BATTLE FRONT.

News of the first South San Francisco boy to lay down his life for the cause of liberty has reached here. Eugenia Franceschette, 26 years old, has been reported killed in action in France.

No details of the particular engagement or sortie in which he was engaged are yet available.

Eugenia Franceschette was unmarried, and had been in this country about ten years. For a week previous to leaving for Camp Lewis, where he was assigned to Company K, 363d U. S. Infantry, he lived with the Jacobi family on the State Highway just below Baden station.

While in South San Francisco, Franceschette, in partnership with a friend named Figoni, had a violet ranch near the pumphouse.

His mother is dead. His father, Augustina Franceschette, lives in Bagrelo, Santa Fiori, Giosetti, Italy.

MORE CHANGES IN MILL MANAGEMENT

Further changes and replacements in the Pacific Coast Steel Mill plant took place this week.

Henry Knoth, superintendent of the open hearth department; Brady Wolfe, general night superintendent, and A. W. Ekstrom, chief chemist, have severed their connections with the company.

Michael Lee is now open hearth superintendent, and W. J. Crook has replaced Ekstrom as chief chemist. No successor has yet been named for Brady Wolfe.

Against its threat the liberty-loving people of the world have risen and allied themselves. No fear has deterred them, and no bribe of material well-being has held them back. They have made sacrifices such as the world has never known before, and their resistance in the face of death and suffering has proved that the aim which animates the German effort can never hope to rule the spirit of mankind. Against the horror of military conquest, against the emptiness of living in mere bodily contentment, against the desolation of becoming part of a State that knows neither truth nor honor, the world has so revolted that even people long dominated and suppressed by force have now begun to stir and arm themselves.

Centuries of subjugation have not destroyed the racial aspirations of the many distinct peoples of Eastern Europe, nor have they accepted the sordid ideals of their political and military masters. They have survived the slow persecutions of peace as well as the agonies of war, and now demand recognition for their just claims to autonomy and self-government. Representatives of these races are with you today, voicing their loyalty to our ideals and offering their services in the common cause.

I ask you, fellow citizens, to unite with them in making this, our Independence Day, the first that shall be consecrated to a declaration of independence for all the peoples of the world.

To the Kaiser: Tell your peace stories to our marines.—Chicago Tribune.

NEWSPAPERMEN OUTWIT HUN SPIES

JOHN R. RATHOM OF PROVIDENCE JOURNAL TELLS THRILLING STORY OF INTRIGUE AND EXPOSE.

The following story is the account of how fifteen loyal newspaper reporters, members of the staff of a provincial newspaper, outwitted the best so-called brains of the entire German propaganda in the United States, told by Mr. John R. Rathom, editor of the Providence Journal.

It is offered to our readers as a gripping group of facts, and will be continued in serial form weekly until completed:

By JOHN R. RATHOM,
(Editor Providence Journal.)

For several years, even before I went to Providence from Chicago—because up to that time I had spent ten very happy years of my life in this city—our people there were “bugs” on wireless. The first wireless constructed for newspaper purposes was constructed by the Providence Journal; and when I got there we had fairly efficient stations. The subsequent developments about which I am going to tell you came as the result of our supervision of one of the most highly powered wireless stations in the world.

On the day that war was declared with Germany by the various European nations, some good fortune or some good angel suggested to us that we listen in on Sayville and Tuckerton. We began to listen in, and for a period of nearly five months, with operators working in shifts of two men eight hours a day apiece, we accumulated 50,000 or 60,000 sheets of wireless messages without saying anything to anybody about what we were doing. We then presented a brief—we were not lawyers—but a common-sense brief to the Government of the United States. One night at the White House, with the Secretary of the Navy and the President and several members of the Cabinet and members of the Neutrality Board, we made our disclosures, covering a period of four or five hours, and we proved exactly the character of organization that this Sayville station

HIRSCHY ASKS FOR SUPPORT ON RECORD

Claude M. Hirschey, candidate for Sheriff, was a visitor in South San Francisco on Friday.

In speaking of his candidacy, Mr. Hirschey declared it would be conducted strictly on non-partisan lines, and that he is asking the support of the voters of the county on his record of twenty-two years' service as a peace officer. Hirschey is a native born Californian, is married and has four children. His father was American born.

As a further result of our wireless revelations—and I may as well say that from that day to this, until the day that Saville was closed up, we maintained our watch over that station—we were enabled to secure positions in a number of consulates throughout this country and in the German embassy itself for our own representatives. I will tell you how that was accomplished.

REDWOOD CITY NOW SALOONLESS TOWN

RETAIL LIQUOR DEALERS CLOSE THEIR DOORS LAST SUNDAY NIGHT.

Redwood City is now a saloonless town. Although the new city ordinance did not take effect until midnight on Sunday night, all the saloons closed their doors at the usual time Sunday evening—6 o'clock.

Town Marshal James P. Coleman stated that the final closing was effected without any disorder, all the saloon men closing their doors promptly at 6 o'clock. All the places were well filled with patrons between the hours of 5 and 6 o'clock, but when the closing time came they all departed without any disturbance. Coleman and Night Watchman C. C. Collins were on hand to see that the ordinance was obeyed, and they found no disposition to evade the law.

Some of the erstwhile saloon men are keeping their places open for a few days longer, selling soft drinks, and the following are now operating family liquor stores under wholesale licenses issued by the Town Trustees: George E. Stafford, W. H. Warren, G. C. Plump and Genochio Brothers. Only four of these licenses can be issued.

ROMANCE GONE

Efficiency Kills Sentiment as Machine Makes Socks in 25 Minutes.

By RUTH DUNBAR.

"How snowy white your fingers look against the scarlet wool!" was the favorite speech of grandfather when he was paying suit to grandmother, who, if history is correct, never allowed little things like love and courtship to distract her mind one minute from her knitting.

The modern young man is robbed of any opportunity to make these pretty speeches, for the wool is no longer scarlet but khaki. Worse yet, the maiden sits before a cold, steel machine and grinds off socks in as many minutes as it takes hours to knit them.

This is what efficiency does to romance.

In the various Red Cross workrooms of the New York County Chapter there are nearly seventy-five sock machines. Eight of these are in the model workroom at 20 East Thirty-eighth street and others that have been ordered are held up by traffic conditions. Here instructors teach the use of the machine to Red Cross workers.

A complete pair of socks can be made on the machine in 25 minutes. The machine looks like a cross between fishing tackle and a pile driver. The worker threads it through the arm and carrier on to the threader. The body of the machine is a circle of needles bent at the ends like crochet hooks.

Sweaters also are made on the sock machine, the strips sewed together and the ribbing at top and bottom knitted on by hand.

Besides the machines in the Red Cross workrooms there are many owned by private individuals or groups who work at home and donate the results to the Red Cross. In a family hotel, for instance, four or five women can club together and buy a machine.

"WHAT HOME SERVICE HAS DONE FOR ME"

My husband enlisted over a year ago. Shortly after he went away our twelve-year-old boy had the measles. After his recovery his school teacher complained about his conduct. At home he was nervous and irritable. When I called at the Red Cross to find out how I could secure an increase in allowance because of our newly born babe I told them of my trouble with Harry. On their advice I took him to an oculist, who said glasses were needed immediately because of the weakened condition of the eyes following measles. He no longer causes trouble at home or at school.

T. R. TO GET SHELL THAT HIT HIS SON

Captain Roosevelt, Who Was in Hospital, Lauds Red Cross.

Capt. Archibald Roosevelt, who recently was injured and nursed back to health in a Red Cross hospital, in speaking of the Red Cross work, is reported as having said:

"The Red Cross is doing everything possible for us. I cannot say too much in appreciation of their efforts, which make us feel as if we were back home. It is a great comfort to us fellows in hospitals, and if our folks could see the way we are being taken care of they would stop worrying."

The Red Cross chaplain in this particular hospital happens to be Doctor Billings of Groton, Mass., who taught Captain Roosevelt at the Groton school. The Red Cross shopping service in the hospital has been commissioned by Captain Roosevelt to obtain a new uniform for him to replace the one which was torn to pieces when he was wounded by fragments of a German shell.

The piece of shrapnel which wounded Captain Roosevelt will be presented to Captain Roosevelt's father, Col. Theodore Roosevelt.

NURSES PRETTY

Red Cross Hospital Uniform Most Becoming in History of World.

In a recent news letter from the front the war correspondent of the Philadelphia North American helps to explain the song, "I'm in Love With a Beautiful Nurse."

"There are 62 Red Cross nurses at this place," says the dispatch. "They are cheerful, obedient, brave and competent. And those who weren't pretty to begin with became so the moment they donned the uniform that is the most becoming in all the long history of costumes devised for the mystification and beguiling of men."

"In the officers' ward was a colonel with bronchitis. 'I've seen them in the Philippines, and I've seen them in China,' he told me. 'I suppose I've seen about all the existing types, but I never yet saw one that wasn't pretty inside of 24 hours.'

"He reminded me of an Irish Tommy, who, so his major told me, woke up in a hospital in 1916 and, seeing the nurses in the ward, exclaimed, 'May the howly Virgin bless us, but the angels have come down to the Somme!'

Hundreds of Red Cross nurses, however, are doing work abroad in which their looks are less eagerly considered. Finding and caring for war orphaned babies, fighting tuberculosis, re-establishing homes in shell wrecked villages—these are some of the big tasks of mercy which, thanks to American contributions, the Red Cross sets for its nurses.

There are 13 divisions of the Red Cross in the United States. There is a complete organization at each division, with a great warehouse for the collection and shipment of all kinds of Red Cross supplies.

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

A GUIDE IN BAKING.

HANG IN YOUR KITCHEN.

SAVE WHEAT—USE WHEAT SUBSTITUTES

Measurements of Substitutes Equal to One Cup of Flour.

These weights and measures were tested in the Experimental Kitchen of the United States Food Administration, Home Conservation Division, and of the United States Department of Agriculture, Office of Home Economics.

In substituting for one cup of flour, use the following measurements. Each is equal in weight to a cup of flour:

Barley	1 1/3 cups	Potato flour	3/4 cup
Buckwheat	1 1/2 cups	Rice flour	3/4 cup
Corn flour	1 cup (scant)	Rolled oats	1 1/2 cups
Corn meal (coarse)	1 1/2 cups	Rolled oats (ground in meat chopper)	1 1/2 cups
Corn meal (fine)	1 cup (scant)	Soy-bean flour	3/4 cup
Cornstarch	3/4 cup	Sweet potato flour	1 1/2 cups
Peanut flour	1 cup (scant)

This table will help you to make good griddle cakes, muffins, cakes, cookies, drop biscuits and nut or raisin bread without using any wheat flour.

You will not need new recipes. Just use the ones your family has always liked, but for each cup of flour use the amount of substitute given in the table.

Good Combinations of Substitutes.

You will get better results if you mix two substitutes than if you use just one alone. Some good combinations are:

Rolled oats (ground)	Corn flour
or	or
Barley flour	Rice flour
or	or
Buckwheat flour	Potato flour
or	or
Peanut flour	Sweet potato flour
or	or
Soy-bean flour	Corn meal

Here is a quick kind of corn bread. Our grandmothers used to bake it on a board before the open fire. You can bake it in your oven.

Corn Dodger.

2 cups corn meal	2 teaspoons fat
1 teaspoon salt	1 1/2 cups boiling water

Pour the boiling water over the other materials. Beat well. When cool, form into thin cakes and bake 30 minutes in a hot oven. Makes 14 biscuits. These crisp little biscuits are good with butter or gravy. Eat them with your meat and vegetables.

Corn Meal and Meat.

Corn meal is good combined with meats. Such a dish is a meal in itself. Try this one:

Tamale Pie.

2 cups corn meal	1 onion
6 cups water	2 cups tomatoes
1 tablespoon fat	1 pound hamburger steak

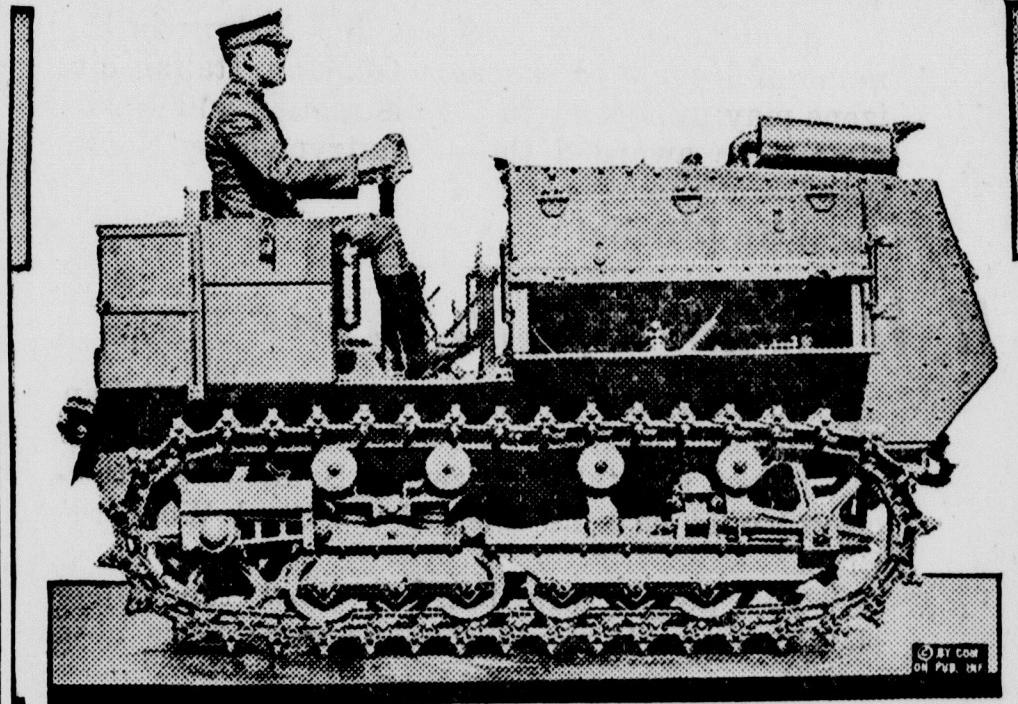

Make a mush by stirring the corn meal and 1 1/2 teaspoons salt into boiling water. Cook 45 minutes. Brown onion in fat, add hamburger and stir until red color disappears. Add salt, pepper and tomato. A sweet pepper is an addition. Grease baking dish, put in layer of corn meal mush, add seasoned meat and cover with mush. Bake one-half hour. Serves six.

Pauline Frederick in "The Hungry Heart" Tuesday's Bill at Royal

The "eternal triangle," with a new hypotenuse forms the basis for Pauline Frederick's new Paramount picture, which was taken from "The Hungry Heart," one of David Graham Phillips' best known novels. Besides the triangle—the wife, husband and the "other man"—there is Nanny, the jealous old housekeeper, and the bride's mother. Four principal characters and a few small parts make up the unusually small cast for a picture that contains one of the most vividly strong plots ever screened. "The Hungry Heart" will be shown on Tuesday at the Royal Theatre.

FRIDAY, JULY 5, 1918.

Viva L'Italia!

Eugenio Franceschette lies buried "somewhere in France." He is the first South San Francisco boy to lay down his life on the altar of liberty.

News of his having been killed in action reached us at the time when the whole world was uniting in plaudits for Italy—at the time when victory attended the Italian banners in their attack on the Austrians along the Piave.

Eugenio Franceschette was a true son of Italy, and in the giving of his life for freedom he was loyal to the traditions of his native land—to the spirit of the old-time Garibaldi and the cause of the country of his adoption.

South San Francisco sorrows at the death of this Italian boy, but her head is held proudly erect at her contribution to the cause of democracy and ultimate victory.

High up in the annals of her history is the name of Eugenia Franceschette. Her Italian citizens may well glory in the distinction which will always be awarded their countrymen by South San Francisco.

Viva L'Italia!

If It Was Up to Us---

There would be a Justice Court in South San Francisco.

Every reputable citizen of South San Francisco would be a member of the Steel Workers' Club.

The people who tell us "how the paper should be run" would send us some news now and then.

Friends and relatives of the boys "over there" would write them more often.

No man serving the colors would ever be without "smokes."

South San Francisco would have switching rates on a parity with Oakland and Los Angeles.

Every one would patronize the Red Cross Shop.

Don't Quit!

Are you saving NOW for the Fourth Liberty Loan? Nothing would please the Kaiser more than to know that you feel and act on the feeling that the war's nearly over and the Government won't need your few dollars. The war is "nearly over"—nearly over HERE! And a few dollars willingly given now will do the work of hundreds and of thousands later on, when brutal necessity may DEMAND! Have you ever stood on the street corner of a big city, where the street cars run swiftly and stop only long enough to pick up the passengers at the very step? You may have seen some one running for a car, and because the car is not moving he slackens his speed just before he gets to it, saying to himself: "I'm almost there; I can catch it all right." But the car starts, and picks up speed so rapidly that, though the self-fooled would-be passenger sprints his best, he loses his car. He had plenty of time to catch it had he kept on, but he "kidded himself" and lost out. Remember that, and in this great war don't slacken, don't weaken, don't let up for an instant till it's won, THEN take your rest, knowing that you have leisure to enjoy it.

The National Defense League, of which Theodore Roosevelt is honorary president, is engaging in a nation-wide movement against the purchase of German-made goods. Its slogan is, "Turn Germany upside down, and you will find 'Made in hell' stamped upon it." The league is asking 20,000,000 subscribers to a pledge not to buy articles of any kind with the "Made in Germany" stamp. We personally do not want to touch anything made in Germany with a ten-foot pole.

The war bills of England and America are met by appropriations made by Parliament and Congress respectively. But the American soldiers are preparing to pay Germany's War Bill in full for all his acts.

It was a pity that General Funston received his cue for an exit before the great war began. He would have loved to be cast for a part in it, and would have played his part well.

The girl who married six soldiers in succession and secured an allotment from each of them should have gone into Wall Street. She has all the makings of a high financier.

ONE WEAPON OF THE HUN

The kaiser is reported to have said recently that the Germans had taken enough prisoners, the inference being that all the wounded should be killed. This weapon, one of many thousands captured, is sample of those used by the Huns to murder soldiers taken in their trench raids.

Why Ships Are Sunk.

Torpedoed merchant vessels are not sunk by extensive damage of the ship structure, is the view of a committee of the British Institution of Naval Architects, but because watertight compartments are not watertight. Plating and riveting are not disturbed over large areas, while bulkheads are not burst in by water pressure. Three causes explain many losses—bulkhead doors too low down to be closed after explosion, flooding of closed compartments through fractured suction pipes, and penetrating of bulkheads by flying rivets and other fragments of steel.

News of the County

QUOTA IS EXCEEDED

Thomas T. Wiseman, county director of War Savings, has sent a message to San Francisco headquarters stating that preliminary reports indicate that San Mateo county has gone over its quota of $734,240 in the pledge card drive.

Although some of the towns of the county appear to have lagged somewhat behind and probably have not exceeded their allotments, Director Wiseman is certain that South San Francisco, San Mateo, Burlingame and Redwood City have exceeded their quotas by sufficient margins to carry the whole county "over the top."

EKSWARD IS CANDIDATE

Assemblyman Frank L. Eksward has announced his candidacy for reelection, and will seek both the Republican and Democratic nominations at the primary on August 27th. He has been busy lately with several large promotion enterprises for the San Mateo County Development Association, and therefore has not had much time to start his campaign, but during the next month, he says, he hopes to visit all sections of the county. The many friends and supporters of Assemblyman Eksward are confident that he will be returned to the State Legislature by a large vote.

DESERTER ARRESTED

Chief of Police Lewis Cavalier of Burlingame arrested Ford Arthur Berton in Burlingame on Tuesday and turned him over to the army authorities, who wanted him for desertion. Berton deserted in April from Camp Kearny and has been working as baggeman at Burlingame under the name of Whitley for about a month.

RED CROSS WILL BUILD

The directors of the San Mateo County Red Cross Chapter are preparing plans for a building in Burlingame for the executive offices of the chapter. The building probably will be erected on a lot near the Woman's Club house on Park road, which has been used for the Burlingame workrooms of the Red Cross.

TWO SCHAW-BATCHER MEN OUT FOR COUNTY OFFICES

The latest candidate in the race for the office of Justice of the Peace of the Third Township is Arthur E. Thompson of Redwood City.

Mr. Thompson was raised in Redwood City, and is now employed by the Schaw-Batcher Company. He has studied law for the past three years, attending night school in San Francisco.

M. F. Boland, former City Marshal of San Mateo, has announced his candidacy for Constable of the Second Township at the primary election on August 27th. At present Boland is employed in the shipyards, but if elected he will spend all his time in San Mateo and vicinity, so as to be able to attend to the duties of Constable.

HILLSBOROUGH TRUSTEES ENDORSE CLAUDE HIRSCHHEY

The Town Board of Trustees of Hillsborough endorsed the candidacy of Claude M. Hirschey, Marshal, for Sheriff at the regular meeting this week. Hirschey was also notified that his salary as Town Marshal had been raised from $150 to $160 a month. This is believed to be the first time on record that a municipality has endorsed the candidacy of an official in this manner.

A CORRECTION

Through a typographical error the Enterprise, in its political advertising column, announced H. C. Tuchsen as a candidate for County Auditor. This was an error. Mr. Tuchsen is seeking the office of Assessor.

We are glad to make the correction for the benefit of the many friends throughout the county who will cast their vote for him for the office.

SICKENING ATROCITIES OF GERMANS

Records in French Archives Authenticated by Affidavits

The following are but a few, and these the least sickening, of over a thousand documented atrocities, with the original photographs and affidavits, resting in the archives of France against the day of reckoning.

(D. 25, 54.) Withdrawing from Hofstade, in addition to other atrocities, the Germans cut off both hands of a boy of sixteen. At the inquest affidavits were taken from twenty-five witnesses, who saw the boy before he died or just afterward.

(D. 4, 5.) A Belgian babe, skewered upon the bayonet, driven through his stomach, with his little dead head and hands and legs dangling as the Germans proudly carried it through the street of a village.

(Affidavits D. 100-8.) Passing through Haecht, in addition to the young women whom they violated and killed, a child three years old was found nailed by its hands and feet to a door.

(D. 10, 45.) In retreating from Laine, eight drunken soldiers were marching through the street. A little child of two years came out and a soldier skewered the child on his bayonet and carried it away while his comrades sang.

(Affidavits in Alcove 867.) The dead body of a young girl nailed by her hands to the outside door of a cottage.

"Nothing sold here made in Germany" will be a shopkeeper's sign no treaty can regulate.—Wall Street Journal.

Germany is already talking about "the next war." That is reasonable, as it seems to have mussed up this one beyond repair.—Chicago Daily News.

A German military expert says that the Teutons know exactly how many reserves the Allies have. Perhaps that is why they slowed up the drive.—St. Louis Star.

She was about fourteen or sixteen years of age.

At Capelle-au-Bois the Belgian troops found two girls hanging naked from a tree, their breasts cut off. In same town German soldiers held a mother down by force while other soldiers violated her daughter in an adjoining room.

(Alcove C. 60.) A Mother Superior crucified by bayonets to the door of her schoolhouse as punishment for scratching the face of an officer who was violating the person of a young nun. The burning alive of a man who defended his wife.

(D. 92-93. Also D. 100-108.) Photographs of an aged priest staked down to the ground and used as a lavatory until he was dead; photographs and affidavits of young girls with one breast cut off.

This is the German kultur of which the German philosophers babble, the kultur of which one writes:

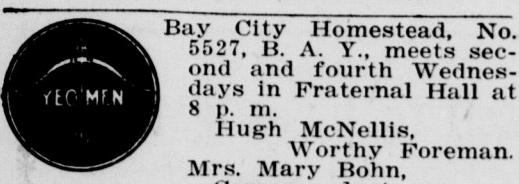

"We are indeed trusted here on earth with a doubly sacred mission; not only to protect kultur against the narrow-minded huckster spirit of a thoroughly corrupted and inwardly rotten commercialism (Jobbertum), but also to impart kultur in its most august purity, nobility and glory to the whole of humanity, and thereby contribute not a little to its salvation."

When our boys sing "Yankee Doodle," the Huns are the ones that stick a white feather in their caps.—St. Louis Star.

By bringing the U-boat warfare to this side of the Atlantic the Huns have brought it where we want it.—Dallas News.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Catarrh Medicine fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

A LONG, LONG TRAIL

AMERICAN BOYS IN FRANCE COIN PARODY ON POPULAR SONG.

A mixed crowd of French and Americans had assembled. Comic recitations, impromptu songs and parodies on popular airs were sung in the crowded "Y" hut. Then came the parody on "There's a Long, Long Trail a-Winding," sung over and over again:

It's a long, long trail a-winding
Through No Man's Land out in France,
Where the shrapnel shells are bursting,

But we must advance.
There'll be lots of thrills and fighting
Before our dreams all come true,
But we'll show the darned old Kaiser
What the Yankee boys can do!
Then "Glory, Glory Hallelujah," repeated again and again. Not a word of religion heard, yet the hut fairly reverberating with a sub-conscious religious spirit—God, home and loved ones.

Then a lad from Dixie handed the Y. M. C. A. secretary his gold watch

SHOE TALK

Just a little talk on SHOES:

What will it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own—HEALTH?

That's what he will surely do if he persists in wearing faulty shoes.

To resume:

The perfect shoe must be waterproof. It must fit the foot at every point. It must be well made and of the best material. Lastly, it must conform to the prevailing style.

In each one of these qualities our Shoes lead all others, as you will admit when you have once worn them.

THE PRICES WILL PLEASE YOU.
